DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-3, 5-11 and 16-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-11 and 16-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Currently, all of the independent claims merely state in the preamble "a passenger conveyor system". There is not a single recitation of a motor or transmission means or attachment means connecting the steps and then moving the steps as suggested in the preamble.

A static pair of steps could be read upon the current claimed steps. There is not one limitation present that moves the steps as in the intended purpose of the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3651

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1-3, 5-11, and 16-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Soldat USP 5,042,641 as cited above.

See the previously attached marked up drawing sheet 1 of 2 depicting the claimed features.

Soldat teaches the claimed invention as outlined above except for citing the specific materials of foam, solid material, or a metallic flange. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice as to the type of material used for the insulating material/second portion. Soldat does not disclose what material his insulator 2 is made. The mere claiming of a type of known material which possesses insulating properties(all properties possess insulating material of varying degrees) is a matter of personal choice and based on the particular application at hand and the selection of one over another does not provide a patentable departure over that of Soldat.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

It should be noted that the mere functional recitation of “sound transmission reducing member” is clearly met by Soldat even though he does not explicitly state his brush is for that functional purpose. The fact is that any material blocking two separate areas provides some type of sound reduction whether that is the intended purpose or not. Whether the brush of Soldat is used (or stated to be used) as a sound transmission reducing member, it does provide this function maybe not to a degree of the applicant's but nevertheless to some degree.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
